

MARIETTA VICTOR IN 11 INNINGS

Visiting Youngsters Prove Sensational Surprise After Three Defeats at Hands of Minco Braves

GRISHAM HOLDS THEM TO 5 HITS

Big Lad Pitches Wonderful Game; Fentress is His Opponent; Jones Delivers the Goods at Bat

Nobody expected Marietta to put the slick field over the Minco Braves at University park yesterday. Minco didn't expect it. They seemed to take the game as a sort of soft snap during the first few innings, that they could tighten up in their last half of any frame and win in a walk. That six feet-two of prospect for the big leagues held them to a total of just five hits during the entire eleven innings it took to decide the game, 3-2. Once he gave two blows in one division. That was in the sixth and nothing resulted. Henderson, who got the first one, went down on a fielder's choice and Eddie Palmer died on second after negotiating the only stolen base in the game.

It even looked in the eleventh inning like Minco was possibly attempting to pull off a great grandstand play that didn't work. Fentress isn't a pitcher that will ordinarily throw the pill over into the middle of the grand stand with a man on third. He did it in that eleven inning contest did it after a hurried consultation out midway between the box, short and third when McCollum was reclining on third after placing himself on second with a safety to right, then advancing to third sack when Palmer saw he couldn't tag the runner from Brown's grounder.

That same Eddie Palmer, who had already got a two bagger and a single in yesterday's game, was first man up in the last of "that" eleventh inning. Heatley, the left fielder, and the Indian catcher, Lawrence, the man that saved the day against Verden with a double to right a week ago, were next in order. If Fentress threw that ball away on purpose, it must have been due to his confidence in one of those three to get on, then on Mathis or Parnell to send the runner home.

If such thoughts as those were in his mind, he erred considerably. Eddie hit a high one that fell into McCollum's glove as if it intended to grow there. Laver, the Indian first baseman, fielded Heatley's grounder and Grisham covered the sack from the box like Mickey did when he was twirling for Verden. With two men down and Marietta a run in the lead, everything depended upon Lawrence, whose number the Shawnee had seemed to have. The Carlisle receiver had already fanned twice and hit two high ones, one to third base and one to short.

Money that wouldn't show itself against Minco coin flashed throughout the game showed up but none was covered. After a curve clipped the corner of the plate, Grisham circled one right across and Lawrence bustled it out to Brown in center field, who had already copped three similar ones. It was the well for Lawrence's fly and defeat for Ed Bond's team.

Jones, that Indian kid on the third sack for Marietta, for delivering the goods when goods had to be delivered, ranked right along with Grisham. He made the hit that sent Erwin home for the first run in the fifth inning with two men already down and the bases full, and he put Mobley across the rubber for the tie score in the seventh after Brice had struck out. Mobley had walked then Grisham had been retired. Burke to Mathis. He did it with a clean two bagger to the fence in right field. He walked once and batted .500.

IN JAIL AGAIN FOR ATTACK ON HIS NEIGHBOR

Sonny Smith, who was released on bond from Judge Moore's court the latter part of the week, after having been found guilty of stealing coal from a railway company, is again in the toils of an outraged law.

It seems that rejoicing in the fact that a good friend in the bondsmen line had stepped between him and the iron bars of the county jail, Sonny started out Sunday night with the comforting aid and voluntary assistance of "Lonnie" Goodwin, to change the general appearance of the map of one quiet and peacefully inclined Griffin, also of the colored persuasion.

Now, the object of their attentions, while not an Apollo, nor even an aspirant for second honors in a beauty contest, seriously objected to having his features changed, altered or repaired, so when the "two little niggers" came down on him like a couple of wolves on the fold, he gathered to his aid, through ministering powers of the telephone, certain county officials from the sheriff's department, and had the bruisers taken in charge.

This morning "Sonny" and "Lonnie" were arraigned before Judge Fuller, charged with breach of the peace. Bond was set in each case at $200 and the defendants released until September 15. In the case of "Sonny" Smith it seems the young man's evident desire to break into the penitentiary at McAlester may be satisfied at an early date.

JITNEY WAR ON IN PORTO RICO

By United Press.

Washington, Sept. 13.—A real war between jitneys and a regular railroad has developed down in Porto Rico. Up to two months ago the railroad had a monopoly of the passenger business between Catano and Bayamon, which amounted to half an million persons a year. Then the pesky jitney made its appearance. Now the "filivers" are carrying just half the traffic.

Although the jitney fare was ten cents, the same as the railroad, the busses proved so popular with the people that the railroad was forced to reduce its fare. The trip soon became a sporting proposition, the jitneys racing with the trains, and often beating them to the finish.

Now it is announced the railroad will be electrified and all the old equipment replaced with modern cars and appliances. These improvements will cost many thousands of dollars, not counting what the rivalry already has cost the road in traffic shrinkage.

FILES SUIT FOR HAIL DAMAGE

W. C. King has filed suit in the district court of Grady county against the Union Mutual Insurance company, an Oklahoma institution, seeking to recover damages caused a growing wheat crop, by a hail storm on July 23, 1915.

The plaintiff in his petition alleges that he held a policy in defendant company covering 250 acres of growing wheat; that on the date above named 130 acres of this wheat was visited by a destructive hail storm and damaged 60 per cent, or in the sum of $780. He sets forth that he has complied with all demands of the insurance company and that the said company refuses to make an equitable adjustment of the plaintiff's claim, wherefore he asks judgment in the sum named.
